Dear Friends. I know you are very busy & I would not trouble you. but unfortunately we cannot find a House to my advantage and through your personal pressure. He wrote a short note to Emma saying that he would much he wishes to purchase in the matter of money. & send to her by the following mail a bill for a thousand dollars. for is usual in such cases for her to work upon. She was a long time since the receipt of the letter & no money (or letter) has been sent. In her correspondence with the Borgia. (the best in the world) she finds that it will be necessary to pay down $1500. before they begin casting $1000 when it is completed: & the remainder when delivered to the vessel at Rotterdam. Thus if D'Hour sends her the first $1000 now - on the 1st of July - he must send the second $1000 - & the remainder she must draw for as she may find need for it. If it is necessary to have some one responsible to him for it. I will beg you to assume this responsibility for which I am here in all my past letters to D'Hour responsible to you & to him! - It is necessary that this should be understood at the beginning. Emma will be so out of pocket by the transaction. that it is necessary for her to be assured that the Borgia's money will be forthcoming.
I suppose, to save trouble - D'Hour sends the money to Henry & let him pay <sup>up</sup> of Emma. who will receipt for it. - She is getting on fully with the work. but it will keep on her until she sends of June I fear - & this will try his strength. She has made such a lovely little figure of the Angel of Death. The "Childsman" cupped "Carved out from the little photo-graph which you saw. & a colossal head of the original (Shakespeare I call it) Rebel - "The Arch Angel Rained as she calls it - alias. Lucifer. which is full of power & which ought to be ordered by somebody at home. If Mrs Don saw this lovely "Childsman" she would remember the order she promised Emma. I wish of you & of her, you would say you thought she was going to have something of her kind. I had such a nice letter from Mr Howard last week. All good & hopeful I wish I had wanted to be a hour this winter. My sacrifice has been for the first time my part. In "Fury away" Standard Standard I wish I was coming home this spring with her picture. I hope the times will have been sufficiently good with you. to enable me to take yours. & help him with the sale of others. In indeed they are very fine. delicately. I have not had any atlantic printed think it is too bad. you might have sent them to me. even if my name had not been on the subscription book. I was good for them. I hear of you often through my Childsman. I am glad to hear of you always well & prospering. What glorious news! How many American men have been abroad in your time. In will "The wicked fleet" - I wish will be rampants abroad in the out of danger! It is quite now, for fear of Coercion. but matter settled. How rapid how painful they will be to encounter.

How well they have proved they can run! And men displaced to a 12 months soldier to run. than a three month one. Oh well. I am not sorry for the war! How wonderful are the English papers. There is more said in those papers, than has been said for any with the exception of you. I am glad of Charles & Gospelman - good by. Dear Mr. W. H. H. I am yours affectionately
Wm. H. H.
