Dear Mr. Fields -

Why dont you send me more proof at a time! You will actually break me with Express charges. I do wish you would send always by Morse's Express. His office is No 11 Elm St Boston He will bring it to me at night and call for it in the morning.

Have I credit enough with you to ask for an advance of $25?

I have quite an ashore while waiting for a remittance from Washington. It is a most and not a very agreeable feeling to be entirely out of money. It frightens me. You should have seen me hang my head this morning when I begged a few days' grace of the Express-man. It was an awful moment. - To have mercy upon a poor improvident blue, who has an unfortunate propensity to spend faster than she earns.

It is a consolation to me to know that though in debt to my publishers - there are other publishers
in debt to me.

Truly yours -
Grace

P. S. - I am obliged to send this pavoy up by mail - as ~~the~~ <sup>Pratt's</sup> Express man does not bring it to me early enough to have it returned by the morning express.
He should deliver it at night.
